Say goodbye to manual cutting of stretch film

VARO has developed a revolutionary new technology for automatic unwrapping of shipping pallets.

The VARO Unwrapper Cut is a semi-automatic unwrapping unit, which accurately and efficiently cuts the stretch wrap, even from unregular shaped shipping pallets. Contrary to our Core and Control versions, the VARO Unwrapper Cut version will only cut the stretch wrap, not remove it.

It is therefore the perfect choice for any warehouse that receives and unpacks a smaller amount of pallets each day, but still would like to benefit from automatic cutting of stretch film for safety reasons.

The VARO unwrapping unit pays off

Self-operating

during the cutting process, no operator is needed, thus providing savings in factory wages

Safe

reduces risk for work related injuries involving knives or falls from ladders and prevents the discomfort of static shock

Fast

cuts up to 100 pallets per hour

Careful

cuts stretch film without any damage to the goods packed on the pallets

Patented technology with high flexibility

With the VARO Unwrapper Core version, you'll get:

- a flexible unit which handles all standard pallets - US pallets up to 48x40" or EUR EPAL 1-7 (up to 1200x1200mm)
- a versatile unit which can handle unregular stabled products on pallets and pallets up to 2.7 meter in height (US: 8'10" – 8 feet, 10 inches)
- a place saving unit that can either stand alone or be smoothly integrated into your existing production line
- an eco-friendly unit - no compressed air
